From the Editor:

This newsletter is written from the home of the Great Highland Bagpipe with the sounds of the 2006 World Pipe Band Championships still ringing in the ears.

Some impressions of the day are in the newsletter.

Some contest results have been held over until next month because it is the peak of the Northern Hemisphere "season" and our last newsletter was also published a bit early, so a lot of water has flowed under the bridge. I have included two contests (Portree and Killin) where one of our members, Mark McKenzie, did very well, securing second in the Piobaireachd on each occasion as well as the results from Lorient where Matthew Supranowicz and Cory Dale competed.

This month's meeting is the annual meeting, so it is a good time to thank all the other officers of the Society and you, the members, for their and your efforts on behalf of the Society over the last year.

JULY 2006 MEETING

The July meeting of the Society is set aside for the Annual Jimmy Durham Memorial Competition for Elementary and Sub-Intermediate players who have not previously won the event and therefore a good attendance is assured to listen to young aspiring players as they are in the early stages of what we hope will be a long and active career of piping.

After opening remarks outlining the significance of the competition to our Society and announcing apologies – several regulars being overseas at this time of year – Maurie DeHayr announced the competitors and invited Matthew Supranowicz to open the evening with a short set whilst the draw was finalised.

Matthew Supranowicz played a short selection of 4/4 marches to set the evening off to a good start and on completion Maurie announced Robin Livingstone as the adjudicator for the competition and invited him to take his place ready for the first of our six competitors who were Nick Omdahl; James Nelson; Bill Johnson; Angus Wheeler; Ian Hustwick and James Doran.

Robin has supplied the following report of the competition:

It was my great pleasure to be asked by Maurie DeHayr to be the adjudicator for the 2006 Competition.

There were six competitors who providing us with some well executed and expressed music on very well sounding instruments. The audience showed all of them a warm appreciation for their efforts.

The music to be played was a 2/4 March of 4 parts played once through.

The competitors in order of play (with their choice of music) were:-

1. Nicholas OMDAHL – Donald MacLellan of Rothesay
2. James NELSON - Atholl and Breadalbane Gathering
3. Bill JOHNSON – Willie Gray's Farewell to the Glasgow Police
4. Angus WHEELER – John MacDonald of Glencoe
5. Ian HUSTWICK – The 74th's Farewell to Edinburgh
6. James DORAN – Willie Gray's Farewell to the Glasgow police

General comments on the playing:-

I am increasingly impressed these days with the strength of young pipers hands (both young men and young women). When you consider the lighter touch of say the recorder and some flues and whistles – our type of music with the complexity of the embellishments to the notes needs a “strong” and at times measured touch to execute it well.

I was particularly pleased to see that strength and the efforts put in by all pipers into the actual playing of the embellishments and in particular the taorluath, grip and D throw movements. James Nelson and Nicholas Omdahl were especially good here with the others close behind.

One observation from the evening and common to all levels of playing it is that pipers try so hard to play all the gracenotes of the embellishment that they take too long to play them. The music has its own pulse, beat and time signature where the theme notes need to be dominant to be able to play (and recognise) the tune. If we take too long to play the embellishment then of course the phrasing of the theme notes that make the tune is absent – the beat falls outside where it should. So in an effort to play the embellishment well (and this is the unique characteristic of our music) continue to play them but listen for that subtle give and take of timing and execution that makes the difference.

I was impressed by the quality of the sound of all pipers in the competition – with new technology of reeds and bags the tonal colour of the sound was so pleasant. Just one of the 6 competitors had what I felt were drones a bit too loud for the chanter but still tuneful. In particular I did enjoy the pitch and harmony of the chanters – the intonation between each of the notes was largely true and very pleasant to listen to with a bright and resonant feel.

Thank you to all the competitors and indeed their teachers for all the work they have been doing in continue to learn and improve their playing of our noble instrument.

There were four placings with prizes. Congratulations to :--

James NELSON - Atholl and Breadalbane Gathering (1st)

Nicholas OMDAHL – Donald MacLellan of Rothesay (2nd)

Angus WHEELER – John MacDonald of Glencoe (3rd)

Ian HUSTWICK – The 74th's Farewell to Edinburgh (4th)

Congratulation also to James DORAN and Bill JOHNSON – I am sure we will see them in the winners list soon.

Robin Livingstone

On completion of the competition Robin spoke of his pleasure judging the event and made several comments which should add to the careers of our competitors on the night.

The winner of the competition James Nelson was presented with the Trophy by last years winner Vaughn Parker and the presentation of the prizes and medals followed :-

- 1st James Nelson
- 2nd. Nick Omdahl
- 3rd. Angus Wheeler
- 4th. Ian Hustwick

Our sincere thanks are sent to Bill Durham (Jimmy's brother) who donates the four medals for presentation to our prize winners.

Matthew Supranowicz, who was leaving for Brittany next day then played some of his selections for that competition and after an MSR of The Clan McColl, The Shepherd's Crook and The Gray Bob played an Irish set of The Friar's Britches, Johnny the Tree Wrecker, The Humours of Whiskey, The Foxhunter, She moved through the Fair, The Swallow-Tailed Coat, Rakish Paddy and The Humours of Tulla. followed by a Breton Set Suite Plinn.

Next to play was James Nelson with Hugh Kennedy/Maggie Cameron and Major Manson followed by Allan MacPherson of Mosspark and Donella Beaton.

Vaughn Parker completed the night's piping with a rousing set of Bruce Gandy's Farewell to the Iron Horse, MacCrimmon will never Return, Braes of Mellinish, Jolly Tinker, The Gravel Walk and Andy Renwick's Ferret.

The customary raffle being won by Joan O'Neill the evening was completed with supper and of course plenty of chat.

Piobaireachd Club

What with several of our regulars either overseas or ill numbers were down for the August Meeting - However be that as it may those in attendance made good use of the time and some very enjoyable music was heard.

In Malcolm's absence Roy Gunn conducted the session and commenced with Rory MacLoude's Lament followed by Sandy Campbell playing The Desperate Battle of the Birds; we then heard MacIntosh's Lament from Maurie DeHayr after which the tune for the Month The Glen is Mine was worked through and finally played by Roy. The Flame of Wrath for Patrick Caogach was then played by Peter Burrows and the session completed by Roy playing His Father's Lament for Donald MacKenzie.

Impressions of the Worlds

The Worlds Pipe Band Championships day in Glasgow started out as a beautiful sunny day but by afternoon there were plenty of thick clouds making things rather chilly.

Glasgow Green is an excellent venue for spectators as it is close to the centre of Glasgow and well laid out in a compact way. It isn't quite so ideal for Bands because the grounds aren't really large enough to accommodate all the Bands, their buses and tuning areas. Many Bands had to walk considerable distances.

We cheerfully walked through a gate which we thought would lead us to the barrier but then discovered we were in – no one was policing the gate! Being honest Aussies, we went and paid of course – we had to pay anyway if we wanted to get tickets to the stands around the Grade 1 arena. General admission was 7 pounds but if you wanted to get into the stand you had to pay an extra 12 pounds.

We ran into quite a few Society members and other Queensland people – the Dearies, Malcolm McRae, Donald MacSween, Katrina Stead, Joe McGhee, Mark McKenzie, Geoff Goward and Steve Clark as well as the Laurensens (now living in West Australia).

We spent most of the day sitting in the Grade 1 circle.

The qualifying round (from which 5 of the 12 playing went through to the final round) was first up in the morning. Each Band played an MSR and it has to be said that the standard was pretty variable. The Bands that went through were Australia Highlanders (formerly Nunawading), Alberta Caledonia from Canada, Ballycoan from Northern Ireland, Clan Gregor Society and Dysart and Dundonald. Not making it were New Zealand Police (very unlucky I thought), Ballinderry Bridge, Toronto Police from Canada, 78th Highlanders Halifax Citadel from Canada, Lothian and Borders Police, City of Blacktown and Bleary and District. Most of those not qualifying had some pretty obvious weaknesses, such as errors, poor unison, or lack of life and lift. Sound was generally very good.

Most of the Bands in the qualifying rounds played “only” 13 to 15 pipers. In the final most of the “big bands” played around 21, with a maximum, I think, of 23. It seems that not having a lot of players is quite a disadvantage in the sound department. The other interesting thing was Band formations. Rather than being standardised on 4 files, they seemed to be standardised on three ranks! So a Band with 21 pipers marched 7 abreast and the one with 23 was 8 abreast! Most of the “smaller” Bands were 5 abreast.

A break for lunch enabled us to have a bit of a look around. The main arena had 4 circles running and there were a couple of others with one circle each. As usual, plenty of suppliers were plying their wares and there was a large marquee containing stalls selling crafts.

The final of the Grade 1 contest was a bit of a marathon, with 14 MSRs followed by 14 Medleys! I was sitting next to a “retired” drummer from Northern Ireland with Sam Young just behind me so there was much discussion of the rankings as we went on. Our “consensus” rankings were pretty much in accord with the final prize list, although the order turned out a little different. The only real surprise was Boghall and Bathgate making the list and Vale of Athol not making it.

The following are some (very incomplete and fleeting) impressions of the Bands in order of play – I've merged the comments on MSR and Medley to make the notes a bit shorter.

78th Fraser Highlanders: very professional sounding – didn't like beginning of medley

Ballycoan: MSR much better than qualifying round. Medley not very exciting

Dysart and Dundonald: MSR quite nice but some unison problems. Medley OK but ordinary Australia Highlanders: MSR much better than qualifying but some little errors. Medley quite nice.

Shotts and Dykehead: MSR excellent with great drums – sound just not quite there. Medley also very good and sound a bit better.

Simon Fraser University: MSR very good and very nice sound. Medley a feast of good music.

St Laurence O'Toole: MSR good sound but some minor errors. Nice musical Medley with plenty of melody

Strathclyde Police: Great quality impression right down to the gold plated drum fittings and the black hose. Unfortunately sound drifted a bit in the MSR. Medley competent rather than exciting.

Alberta Caledonia: Strong performance in MSR. Medley well played but didn't like tune selection, Scottish Power: Solid MSR for most part but some lapses in unison. In medley piper in middle of front rank (!) failed to get his pipes up first go. Medley otherwise nice.

Field Marshall Montgomery: MSR very good with great ensemble. Medley nicest set of music all day.

Clan Gregor: MSR good effort but not in top league. Interesting medley.

Vale of Athol: Good MSR but sound on High A very shrill. Nice medley but not very lively – High A better than in MSR.

Boghall and Bathgate: MSR sounded a bit “muddy”. Medley musical and playing quite good.

You can see the detailed results in the Results Section of the newsletter.

The massed bands was a bit of a debacle. First it had to wait on the finish of an event of the “European Highland Games” held in conjunction with the Worlds. There was an interminable sequence of “heavies” tossing a bag over a bar at ever increasing heights that went on for at least half an hour that could have been used for the Band finale. Then of course it takes a long time to march on all the Bands at the Worlds and then work through all the Drum Majors prizes and then up through Novice Juvenile, Grade 4B and 4A, 3A and 3B, Grade 2 and finally Grade 1. And then the dismissal was a bit of a rabble with only some of the bands remaining to play the final “Scotland the Brave”. However you could understand the Bands breaking off early – we walked out the gate at 7:50pm! Without a long Scottish summer evening it would not have been possible!

The BBC were recording the Grade 1 contest especially to make a program to broadcast on BBC television Scotland. This was their first attempt to do so and they seemed to have every bit of camera equipment possible. A more or less fixed one on a crane overlooked the Grade 1 arena. Another on a long extensible arm swept around getting different angles. It was mounted just near where we were sitting and a couple of times we thought it might take our heads off. This same camera normally started almost at ground level looking up at the Pipe Major as the band was about to march in. It was swept away as the Band marched up towards it – must have been a bit distracting for the Band! It also ended up just outside the circle looking at pipers or drummers and obstructing the judges from walking around the Band. In addition there was a camera on a short counterbalanced boom just outside where the judges walked and a harness mounted camera, the operator of which seemed to dash about like a mad thing trying to get all sorts of interesting angles and again getting very close to the Band while it was playing. One hopes that the program will be of sufficient quality to justify all these obstructions! Hopefully it will be available on DVD for those without access to BBC Television Scotland! Perhaps an Australian network might even broadcast it!
